

Maddie Makes a Movie

By Sonia Garrett

After Maddie finds a playground society celebrating the noble art of falling onto heaped cardboard boxes, Principle Richardson challenges Maddie to please, please find a constructive outlet for her creativity. He knows just the thing: The Young Filmmaker of the Year Award.

Unfortunately, things don't exactly get off to a good start: Maddie's adaptation of Red Riding Hood ends in an unscripted battle scene, and Rapunzel hits a wall when Maddie's best friend Leila is left dangling above the playground by her hair.

Colour this picture to bring Maddie's efforts to life.

MADDIE MAKES A MOVIE: Coming May 2018

To pre-order visit

www.soniagarrett.ca